The powers as to the retention of officials after the age of 55 years and their retirement after that age on the ground of inefficiency are special powers which are vested in the Govt and although such powers may be delegated to Heads of Departments, it is doubtful if such a measure is necessary in this State on account of increased correspondence.

Further, if such delegation is made on behalf of the Chief Court it cannot well be refused in the case of other Heads of Depts, such as the Chief Engr, Senior Surgeon, Survey Supdt, Supdt Govt of Police and Supdt Govt of Edn.

Sir,

With reference to the Proceedings of Government No. 4406-39 P&A 637 dated 30th September 1896, passing orders regarding the retirement or retention of officials who have attained the age of 55 years, I am directed to state that, under the Government of India, it is left to the discretion of the Heads of Departments to retain officials between 55 and 60 years of age — the sanction of Government being required only for the retention of officials exceeding the age of 60 years. This rule saves a deal of unnecessary correspondence, and I am to suggest that it would be convenient if the Chief Court is, under the provisions of Article 309 of the Mysore Service Regulations, authorized to retain in the service public servants of the Judicial Department not appointed by Government, i.e., non gazetted subordinates, till they attain their 60th year. This suggestion, I am to add, was made in 1893, also. (Vide this office No. 2493/88 dated 7th June 1893.)
